RUBAIYAT OF OMAR KHAYYAM

This famous collection of poems, by 11th Century Persian poet and philosopher Omar Khayyam, will be performed with accompanying music by a quartet of Iranian and Australian musicians: instrumentalists Cievash Arian and Siroos Alavi, singer Dania Cornelius, and harpist Donald Hall

Traditional instruments featured include the hammered dulcimer, mandolin, oud, and chromatic (cross-strung) harp taking the voice of the traditional Persian harp.

The concert will commence with an overview of the traditional Persian instruments used, followed by the actual performance of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, interpreted through music, verse, and song. This celebration of Persian culture is not to be missed!
